

DUALLIS · Two phones. One case.

DUALLIS introduces a premium double smartphone case, designed for those who choose to keep their professional and personal lives separate
"DUALLIS makes that choice elegant."

In daily life, saturated with screens, notifications and simultaneous demands, DUALLIS offers a simple response to a very tangible need: bringing two smartphones together in a single premium leather-goods case. The French brand provides an elegant and practical solution for those who wish to maintain a clear boundary between their professional and personal lives.

A response to a very real need

Carrying several phones is no longer unusual. For many working professionals, it reflects a deliberate choice to keep different areas of life separate rather than merge them. While technology has made it increasingly easy to manage two lines on a single device, it does not always address a deeper need: the ability to truly disconnect, both literally and figuratively.

DUALLIS was born from this insight. Its double case was designed to hold two smartphones in a single refined object, without relying on complex technical solutions or accessories that prioritise functionality at the expense of aesthetics. Featuring a discreet magnetic system and a streamlined design, DUALLIS brings together elegance, practicality and durability. Made to order, customisable and crafted from high-quality vegan leather, it is available in three timeless shades: Intense Black, Midnight Blue and Light Brown.

The elegance of a more considered approach of using technology

DUALLIS sits at the intersection of an organizational accessory and a leather-goods piece. It is designed to offer smartphones a considered, organised, and more serene place in everyday life.

This vision reflects a broader shift in the way we use technology, as the pursuit for a healthier digital balance becomes increasingly important. At a time when constant connectivity is increasingly being questioned, DUALLIS offers an approach that is both discreet and functional, designed to bringing together, organising, and protecting everyday mobile devices within a single elegant object

A professional ambition too

While DUALLIS is aimed at individual consumers, the brand also addresses professional environments where image, quality of accessories and consistency of use matter. From corporate gifts to professional equipment, the double case is designed to find its place in environments whenever the smartphone has become an essential working tool.

The brand is also developing an exclusively made-to-order and bespoke manufacturing approach. This reflects a more measured and controlled production philosophy, in line with the expectations of customers who value both to the quality of the objects they select but also the care and precision with which they are made.

Key figures :

99 % of employed people have a mobile phone for either personal or professional use

- 51 % have a personal device only
- 49% have a "professional" device, most often alongside with their personal device
